Any Driver Ltd regularly comes into contact with learners who face one or more of these challenges and who need support to achieve equality of opportunity, to challenge barriers to participation, achievement and social inclusion.

Through our policy, we aim to support our staff, supply chain partners, customers and others we work with to access opportunities that enable them to achieve the best of their ability and create strong, stable and sustainable communities.

This policy applies in our employment and personnel practices, and across all areas of our business – in our service delivery and as an active member of the communities in which we live and work.

While the overall responsibility for achieving, promoting and providing equality of opportunity rests with Any Driver Ltd, all our employees, supply chain partners, learners and other stakeholder are expected to conduct themselves in a way that supports and promotes this policy, including freelance and temporary workers, work experience students, consultants and contractors.

All employees, irrespective of their job or seniority, will be given guidance and instruction, through induction and training, as to their responsibility and role in promoting equality of opportunity, avoiding discrimination and valuing diversity. The policy will be available in all training sites for reference at any time.

Learners will be advised about this policy as part of their induction to the service they receive from Any Driver Ltd.

Any breach of this policy could lead to action under Any Driver's Discipline and Dismissal procedures.

Deep Dive into British Values

As of September 2014, the Department for Education (DfE) requires all schools, colleges and training providers to promote the historical and current Values that underpin the national identity known as being British. Within this, all providers are required to ensure that the curriculum actively promotes these fundamental British Values.

British Value	Definition

Any Driver Ltd is a multicultural community within which we celebrate learners and cultures from all over the world. Alongside this, the company is keen to support all learners in learning about and deepening their understanding of British Values, culture and systems.

British Values are defined by the DfE as:

- Democracy: Respect for democracy and support for participation in the democratic process
- The rule of law: Respect for the basis on which the law is made and applies in England
- Individual liberty: Support and respect for the liberties of all within the law
- Mutual respect and tolerance: Support for equality of opportunity for all and respect and tolerance of different faiths and religious and other beliefs

We believe that British Values are intrinsically linked to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion, whilst have a clear connection and association with the Prevent Duty and Safeguarding (Please refer to ADP006 Prevent Duty Policy and ADP003 Safeguarding Policy).

The organisation has ultimate responsibility for promoting understanding and learner awareness of this subject and will ensure that these are effective, robust and reviewed on a regular basis. As such the Managing Director has been designated duties to oversee and moderate it.

Under the Department for Education (DfE) regulations government funding training providers must;

- Actively promote the fundamental British Values: democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs
- Prevent the promotion of partisan political views in the teaching of any subject in the training centre
- Take such steps as are reasonably practicable to ensure that where political issues are brought to the attention of learners, they are offered a balanced presentation of opposing views

Any Driver Ltd actively promotes principles that:

- Enable learners to develop their self-knowledge, self-esteem and self-confidence
- Enable learners to distinguish right from wrong and to respect the civil and criminal law of England
- Encourage learners to accept responsibility for their behaviour, show initiative and understand how they can contribute positively to the lives of those living and working in the locality in which the training provider is situated, and to society more widely
- Enable learners to acquire a broad general knowledge of and respect for public institutions and services in England
- Further tolerance and harmony between different cultural traditions by enabling pupils to acquire an appreciation of and respect for their own cultures
- Encourage respect for other people, paying particular regard to the protected characteristics set out in the Equality Act 2010
- Encourage respect for democracy and support for participation in the democratic process, including respect for the basis on which the law is made and applied in England

Summary

All staff and learners are expected to behave with integrity, tolerance and compassion in their dealings with one another. We provide opportunities for all learners not only to explore their own cultures but also to understand how these align with British Values and how we can work together as a community for the greater good. Every member of the community has a part to play in enshrining the core Values and Beliefs to build a strong, united and democratic place to live, work and study. Where unfairness or bullying is found to exist, it will be routed out, and democracy and the rights of individuals will take centre stage.
